SEARCHING FOR ACADEMIC ARTICLES

PROYECTOS DE OPTIMIZACIÓN

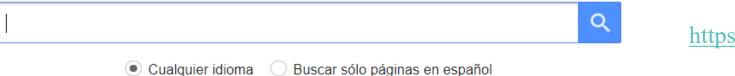

¿Qué tenéis que hacer?

- In both projects we have to make a small related work section
- Goal?
 - Improve your lifelong learning skills
 - First steps into peer-reviewed academic resources
 - Learn about tools to be up-to-date with the knowledge in computer science and data science
 - Spark your interest in academic research

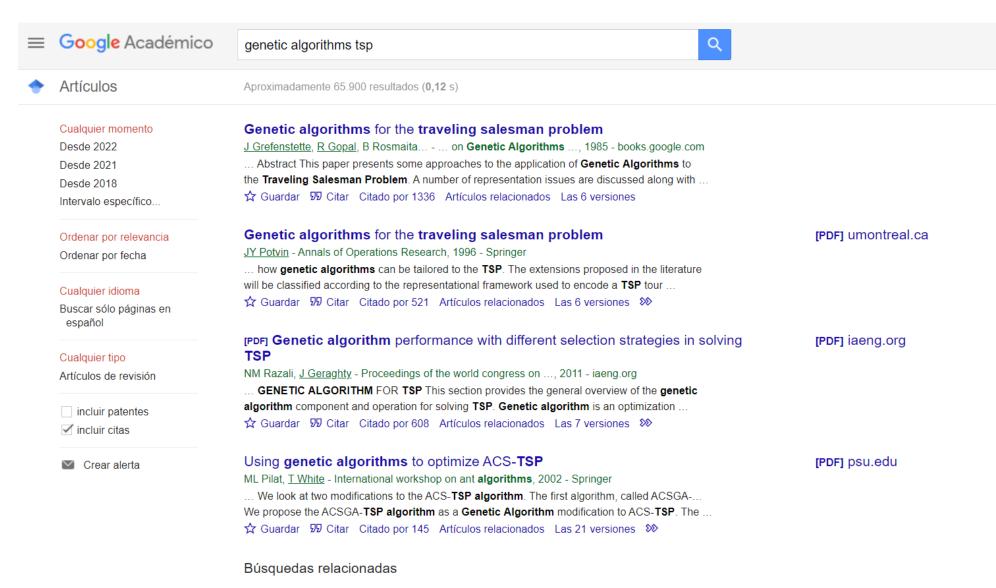

TOOLS

- There are many tools available for looking for academic articles:
 - Scopus, PubMed, ProQuest, EBSC...
 - We will focus on...

CHOOSING WHAT TO READ

- Too many articles to read all of them
- Time is scarce, so we have to be picky
- There is no exact science for the problem...
- We can apply a heuristic...

¿RELEVANCIA?

- No exact algorithm. You should consider several factors...
 - Number citations
 - Conference or journal quality
 - http://portal.core.edu.au/conf-ranks/
 - https://scie.lcc.uma.es:8443/
 - https://jcr.clarivate.com/jcr/
 - Impact of the authors and/or university
 - Novelty of the idea
 - Recent article

FIRST READ OF AN ACADEMIC ARTICLE

- Impossible to grasp all details with a single read
- You have very little experience
- Get the main highlights:
 - What problem is tackled by the authors?
 - What type of technique they use to solve it?
 - What are the main highlights of the results?
 - What is the novelty?
 - What are the differences and similarities with my problema/model?
 - The summaries in the related work/state of the art section are good examples

THANK YOU!

Víctor Sánchez Anguix
